

ALTERNATIVE PRE-TRIAL DETENTION MEASURES

According to Council of Europe there are currently 1,229,385 inmates incarcerated in the European Union, 22,4% out of which are under preventive detention. The issue of pre-trial detention should not be overlooked, since its excessive usage negatively impacts not only detainees and their fundamental rights, but also their families, communities, and even countries' financial resources.

The PRE-TRIAD project aims to promote judicial cooperation in the EU, while raising awareness on the topic of pre-trial detention and its alternatives, building the groundwork for the realisation of common standards in respect to fundamental rights, and upscaling the application of the European Supervision Order.

This project is co-funded by the European Commission
Directorate-General Justice and
Consumers (DG Justice Programme)

Provide a detailed account of the national and European legislation on PTD, as well as its impacts and potential beneficial alternatives

Understand the reasons behind a low application of pre-trial detention alternatives and possible solutions

Raise awareness among policy makers, judicial practitioners and other stakeholders regarding the European Supervision Order